free online to-do list

Being productive is not a talent, it's a skill. And the skill gets better with the right tools, such as Bordio's online to-do list app.

Our online daily planner encourages you to focus on key priority tasks while simultaneously keeping track of the smaller, day-to-day yet necessary things. A wide range of task management features available to users makes the product flexible and guarantees that everyone can work with it efficiently, regardless of their approach to task management.

Stop wasting time with multiple to-do lists

Have all your tasks and events in a single online to-do list app and work with them efficiently. Having multiple to-dos across different notebooks and task planners only makes you confused, increasing the risk of forgetting about part of the work you need to do. With several lists to check out, you are less organized and more prone to procrastination.

You don't need a separate task management tool for each area of your life. Manage personal tasks together with professional to-dos in

Online To-do List for Personal and Team Tasks

Bordio's online to-do list is a simple yet versatile solution for all your planning and productivity needs. Create tasks and events, track your workload, and make your dreams come to life.
